

WHICH TYPE OF CONTAINER DO I NEED FOR MY PRODUCT?

M-LINE INC.
CUSTOM PACKAGING SOLUTIONS

“I have a product I need to ship in a fairly large container, but I’m having trouble figuring out which type of container would be best for my shipments.”

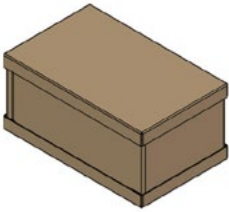

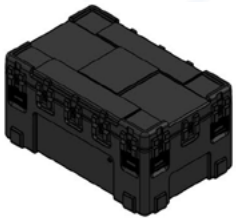

Choosing the right box or container for your product is an important decision - it will ensure your product stays safe during transit and can be customized to match your brand or other needs.

There are four main types of containers or boxes to consider:

- Corrugated cardboard
- Corrugated plastic
- Wood crates
- Reusable plastic cases (at M-Line, we use SKB cases - more on this later)

On the following pages, we’ll discuss the differences among these products and how you can choose one that best fits your needs.

We analyzed 4 different types of containers (size 50x30x24) to help you compare options and price points for each. Keep in mind that pricing will vary depending on your container's dimensions and quantity needed.
